ABOUT ME

Music, as a concept, has shaped my life for over a decade. It brings me joy, fills me with hope, and allows me to express my feelings more than any other passion of mine. For reasons unknown, I have felt drawn to singing my whole life; call it obsession, but I often find myself infatuated by the inherent potential behind every note on every piece of music that I look at. To me, music is like a foreign language; new, challenging, and more intriguing the longer you look at it.
